

- Widen body to better fit components and provide slightly better palm support.
- Increase scroll wheel tolerance
- Increase mouse "fingers" size so they are less fragile and are not lost in support removal process

